

ATT'Y MALATO CHARGED WITH SUPPRESSING EVIDENCE

With the dismissal of the jury trying Mrs. Pasqualine Forte, her daughter Anna and her son Pasquale for the murder of Antonio Morasco, Attorney Borrelli for the defense is charging Ass't State's Att'y Malato with suppressing evidence.

When it became known that the jury was hopelessly deadlocked, the story came out.

The piece of evidence was a bank book, once owned by Morasco, the murdered boy. The defense had tried in vain to locate the book to aid their plea that Morasco had come to the Forte home to attack the girl Anna and not on business.

The state held that Antonio came to the Forte home to collect some money, which he loaned the girl when they were engaged.

While Malato was arguing before the jury after all evidence was in, the book fell from his pocket and was picked up by Borrelli, who turned it over to the judge.

PLAN TO PREVENT LYNCHING

Cairo, Ill., Oct. 13.—Capt. Lutes of Company K, I. N. G., today received orders from Gov. Dunne to have his company in readiness to assist Sheriff Fraser in handling possible attempts at lynching Faust Scott, negro, charged with the murder of Eli Johnson, slain Saturday in a saloon fight. The orders to Capt. Lutes followed an appeal to Gov. Dunne by Fraser for aid in the event of an outbreak.
